

During November 9-11, 2018, the 2018 International Conference & Forum on Creative Writing in Chinese was held in Guangdong University of Foreign Studies (GDUFS). The conference was sponsored by GDUFS and Higher Education Press, and organized by Faculty of Chinese Language and Culture, GDUFS.

With the theme of “New Era, New Start and New Mission”, the conference attracted nearly 300 teachers of literature and writing from more than 120 universities at home and abroad, including Peking University, Tsinghua University, Fudan University, Renmin University of China, Wuhan University, Sun Yat-Sen University, Southern University of Science and Technology, Hong Kong University, The Open University of Hong Kong, Macao University, Macao University of Science and Technology, Notre Dame University of the United States, as well as well-known writers and senior media publishers to gather in GDUFS to discuss the construction of creative writing major, teaching experience and personnel training in Chinese universities in the new era.

